MESSAGE FROM ISABELLE MARCOUX
Chair of the Board, TC Transcontinental Inc. and President of the Major Donors’ Circle

Dear generous donors,
I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude for your loyalty and the way you took action in 2020. Despite uncertain times, your generous donations were truly remarkable. Thanks to all of you, whose names are listed in this directory, our 2020 campaign set a new fundraising record. The invaluable work of our volunteers and your commitment as Major Donors made a real difference.

Over the past three years as president of the Major Donors’ Circle, I have met so many wonderful people, faced several important challenges, and enjoyed many enriching experiences. I’m extremely proud of the path that we forged together as a team alongside Lino A. Saputo. As the outgoing president of the Circle, I want to say thank you.

THANK YOU because your donations help the most vulnerable people in our communities, whose situations worsened during the health crisis. The pandemic widened inequalities and had an adverse impact on food security, mental health, and school drop-out rates. Our communities’ needs are still pressing, and your donations are a big part of the solution.

THANK YOU because your donations allow us to create sustainable solutions for future generations. What we do today, together, and through each of our actions, lays the groundwork for stronger neighbourhoods and a more equitable and inclusive Greater Montreal.

And THANK YOU, dear Major Donors, for helping us combat poverty and social exclusion and bringing us a step closer to a Greater Montreal where everyone has an equal chance of success.
Très Grands donateurs.
When you look around, you see the very challenging situations people are living with: poverty, food insecurity, isolation, and unfortunately the list goes on. That’s why having a safety net for people in our communities is extremely important. For me, Centraide plays a key role in creating this net; this social fabric. It’s an organization that looks at the big picture—over and above specific issues—in order to respond effectively to meet the fundamental needs within our community. I always prefer to talk about “citizen action” as opposed to philanthropy, because our actions are crucial and have a real impact on society. If we can make a difference, we absolutely should, either by giving our time, sharing knowledge, or writing that cheque. For example, at Intact we entered the pandemic in a position of strength, and we were able to help. I also asked employees to step up their generosity – and they quickly answered the call to action. It makes me so proud. That’s why I continue to encourage my team to get involved.”

When your company is very likely the only construction company in the world that states LOVE as one of its values, you know giving back to the community is part of your DNA. At Pomerleau, we recognize that our mission is not only to create infrastructures and construct buildings, but also to build communities. As a leader in the construction industry for nearly 60 years, we have always aspired to have a positive impact on the lives of the people we serve. And this past year more than ever, deeply touched by the countless human and economic challenges caused by this historic pandemic, Pierre and I, together with our executive team, wanted to reinforce the spirit of generosity and goodwill of the company’s community engagement program by giving to Centraide. This is what we call showing love the Pomerleau way.”

— Francis Pomerleau, Chief Executive, National Strategies

After sitting down to do our research, we realized we wanted to donate to organizations that make a big impact but unfortunately lack public visibility. In other words, community agencies. Since we’re not specialists, we decided to put our trust in the experts at Centraide of Greater Montreal. When we think of Centraide, we think of areas of action that are systemic and dynamic in nature. We applaud the fundamental work the organization does, which enables them to redirect their support as needs arise. This is exactly what we saw happen during the pandemic. Much like the accumulated knowledge of 20 years of research meant COVID-19 vaccines could be produced quickly, Centraide was able to immediately focus their significant experience on protecting the fabric of the community.”

— Martin Jacques, absent in this photo, is also a Major Donor from Pomerleau.

ANIK LANTHIER
President and CIO, Public Markets, Fiera Capital

“I believe that it is very important to recognize how privileged and fortunate we are, whether through our employment, salary, education, or where we live. Once we understand that simply being born into a disadvantaged neighbourhood impedes a person’s chances of success, we can appreciate how lucky we are. For example, some people can’t even imagine not having access to a computer. However, this is a reality for several families, even those living among us in Greater Montreal. Lack of access to a computer directly impacts a child’s ability to succeed at school, which has been even more apparent this past year. Social inequalities may not be as visible as illnesses, but tackling them is just as important. Thanks to Centraide’s efficient management and deep knowledge of the community, I know that help reaches these families. This is what motivates me to keep giving: It’s so important to live in a society where everyone has a fair chance and people support each other!”

THIERRY NGUYEN, VANESSA HIRSCHL, AND THEIR DAUGHTERS
Director, RBC Capital Markets

“When we give to Centraide, we give to Montreal: a city with a vibrant culture that is open to the world. Montreal is distinguished by the way we care for our community and show mutual respect for one another – there is a genuine desire to do what’s right and stand in solidarity. This city also welcomed my family with open arms: my parents came from Vietnam in the 1970s, and Vanessa moved here from Venezuela to pursue her university studies. We are proud to call Montreal home and to now watch our young daughters grow up here. Centraide—and especially the community organizations it supports—does the difficult, but necessary work that enables Montreal to be this city that we all love. There are many great causes that are close to our heart; from fighting poverty and inequality, to the integration of new immigrants, to helping children succeed, and supporting young families… For us, by giving to Centraide, we are confident that our donations will be managed very carefully, and that the funds will be deployed in order to have the biggest possible impact across a wide range of needs, and contribute towards maintaining our city’s beautiful social unity.”
DEEP KHOSLA
Head and Managing Director, Quebec Regional Operations, Merrill Lynch Canada Inc.

“I returned to Montreal a few years ago after spending 20 years in the U.S. and Toronto. Montreal is my city—it’s where I’m from. And it has given me so much that it feels only natural to give back to my community and to the people in need who live here. When I was confronted with medical issues in the last few years, I was fortunate to be surrounded by loved ones and a very close social network. In addition to medical treatment, I could count on the exceptional support system around me to help get through a most difficult period in my life. That’s why today, more than ever, I feel compelled to pay my good fortune forward. I would like to keep this circle of mutual care going and, in my own way, provide for a support network to those in need who have nowhere else to turn. Centraide funds organizations that offer those who are struggling through difficult times with the kind of moral support that I received… and so much more. Centraide is an incredibly effective organization in which I put my complete faith. I know I can count on their team’s ability to identify the greatest needs within our community. The work they do is nothing short of extraordinary.”

MAXIME THERRIEN, CHANTAL GRONDIN, AND THEIR CHILDREN HUGO, MANUEL, AND JONATHAN
Chief Financial Officer and Secretary, Saputo Inc.

“The more privileged we are, the more responsibility we have to do our part. I’m blessed with a loving family and a job that energizes me every day. But I’m aware that not everyone is so fortunate and that there are real and growing issues within my own community. Like many of my friends and colleagues, I hope to lead by example and encourage others to get involved for the good of our society. It’s sometimes difficult to pinpoint the initiatives that will have the greatest impact on vulnerable populations, which is why I’ve proudly contributed to the Centraide Campaign for several years. Centraide is uniquely positioned to identify local priorities and realities, and its extensive network allows funds to be allocated where they’re needed most. For instance, it’s essential that all children be given the right tools and equal opportunities to succeed and thrive. And for my family and me, ensuring quality of life for seniors is a cause we care deeply about. In the final chapter of their lives, seniors deserve the necessary support to break social isolation and maintain their independence with dignity. By being engaged and giving generously to Centraide, together, we can make a world of difference.”

Thank you!
To all who made a planned gift to Centraide to help us fight against poverty and social exclusion in the Greater Montreal area for generations to come!

BERNARD DORVAL AND FRANCINE CÔTÉ

“...We both grew up around people who taught us to be humble in our success—which is a result of not only hard work and sacrifice, but also circumstance. There’s a lot of luck in there, too. As adults, we discovered philanthropy thanks to our professional network, which is very involved in the community. Not only did our network show us how to give back financially, they also taught us to create charitable strategies that reflect what we believe in. After giving it much thought, we chose to donate through planned giving—which we’ve discovered generates the largest “happiness impact.” Whenever we meet people who work for agencies supported by Centraide, we are always so impressed by just how effective and devoted they are. Centraide’s mission is critical, and we hope to set the example for others to get involved in the kind of philanthropy that reflects what they believe in—just as we were inspired to do.”

TRIBUTE TO DONORS WHO HAVE PASSED AWAY

Centraide of Greater Montreal honours the memory of our donors who are no longer with us. These altruistic people cared a great deal about improving the well-being of thousands of people and families in our community. The Centraide team extends its deepest condolences to their spouses, relatives, friends and colleagues.

My friend Yolande was always invested in social causes. Her life’s journey brought her onto that path. She was born into a modest social background and was recruited to set up playgrounds for young people from disadvantaged neighbourhoods in her region. I think that’s what sparked her initial interest in helping the community. She was then a teacher and a social worker mainly in the Centre-Sud area. She really enjoyed her work and was devoted to the causes she cared about, in particular, families, children, and people with disabilities. She participated in neighbourhood tours organized by Centraide and was impressed and moved by the variety of causes the organization supports. I believe that was what encouraged her to make a gift in her will. She saw that Centraide was a reputable organization that she could entrust with money in her will and that her donation would benefit society for a long time.”
